SHASTA VIEW POINTS

St. M. Kirkpatrick and family visited relatives at Dorris Saturday and Sunday.

On Friday evening, January 4th, a Red Cross social was given at the home of Mr. Stout, near Straw, California. A number of residents of the Shasta View section attended. An excellent lunch was served about midnight.

Miss Brown and Miss Laits of Hendry high school, visited at Shasta View last Thursday.

A. Kallan, the enterprising merchant at Mallin, gave his regular annual ball at that place last Monday evening. Excellent music was rendered by the Klamath Falls orchestra, and the merry throng tripped the light fantastic until the early hours of the morning.

The directors of the Shasta View district placed a set of International Encyclopedia in the school. These books are found by the students to be of great value in the study of literature, science, etc.

Monday, December 31st, between sixty and seventy neighbors and friends of W. M. Chandler gathered at his home to celebrate his birthday anniversary. The day was perfect, it being so warm the gentlemen, children and young people spent most of the time outside without wraps, nearly everyone participating in the numerous games. Mr. Chandler, as spry as a young man, was the youngest. These gatherings with our esteemed neighbor and friend are most delightful and we hope to be able to enjoy many more with him.

C. W. Miller and family from near Klamath Falls were guests at O. E. Hunt's Sunday, and Monday at W. M. Chandler's.

Mrs. W. W. Bailey returned from her visit at Klamath Falls Saturday.

Miss Lola Schaffer spent Friday and Saturday visiting friends in Merrill.

F. Meehan, wife, and two grandchildren, Beulah and Lloyd, of Poe Valley, spent Tuesday at J. L. Bailey's.

PLEVNA PICKUPS

Mr. and Mrs. George Ager and family and the Misses Marie and Mildred Talbot spent the evening Sunday at the home of R. V. Ess.

Miss Hazel Moore spent the week end in Klamath Falls, visiting Miss Mildred Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Ess and family spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. James Kehns and family.

A New Year's dinner was enjoyed at the ranch of George Shell by the George family.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moore were Klamath Falls visitors Friday.

The Plevna Literary Society held its first meeting last Friday. The next meeting is scheduled for Friday of this week.

Women on Coast "Doing Their Bit"

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Forty thousand sweaters have been distributed during the last few months by the bureau of military relief for the Pacific division of the American Red Cross, and a call for between 40,000 and 50,000 more sweaters is expected within the next ninety days, according to Harrison Dibble, director of military relief.

"In addition to the sweaters, knitted by women of the various chapters of the Pacific division, we have had to purchase 15,000 sweaters, and another order for 15,000 from the manufacturers is on the way," Mr. Dibble said. "This means that if we answer the demands for 40,000 to 50,000 more sweaters during the next ninety days we must look to the women who are knitting for the Red Cross to supply from 10,000 to 20,000 sweaters."

"To meet the immediate demand of 40,000 to 50,000 we have a visible supply of 10,000 sweaters. By giving sweaters to individuals instead of turning them over to the Red Cross many women have caused a duplication, and many men have obtained several sweaters, while others have had none."

Allies Are Facing Great Food Shortage

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8.—The food situation in the allied countries of Europe is graver than it has been at any time since the beginning of the war, and is giving American government officials deep concern. Officials reports picture extreme food shortages in England, France and Italy.

The fact that conditions in Germany and Austria are far worse offers the only grounds for optimism in view of the situation.

In England and France the situation is described as critical in a cablegram to the food administration from Lord Rhonda, the British food controller, which concluded with these words:

"I view the situation with grave anxiety."

A recent cablegram from the French government said that the wheat crop had been requisitioned and that bread ration would be cut to allow only seven ounces of bread daily to all persons except the very poor and those doing hard manual labor. In Italy conditions are not as good perhaps as in either England or France.

Compulsory rationing will be started in England immediately with meats the first commodity to be put under control. Distribution of butter and margarine will be taken in hand next, and other foods will be added as they become scarcer. All of the principal foodstuffs will be rationed by April.

Kaiser Guards His Life With Great Care

LONDON, Dec. 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—So closely is the German emperor guarded when he travels by rail thru Belgium that his movements are kept even from the railroad officials handling his train up to the last possible moment, according to a correspondent of the Chronicle, who has several times witnessed the emperor's arrival.

Whenever the passage of the imperial train is to take place the fact is not known to the chief railway of Belgium until the same day, and to his subordinates not until a quarter of an hour before the arrival, the correspondent says. In the station all lines are kept free.

Describing one such arrival of the Emperor's train, the correspondent says: "All workmen, on this occasion, whether Belgians or Germans, were dispatched outside, and access to the station was forbidden. This applied to all passengers as well. The military guards occupying parts of the station and environs were ordered to leave their posts and pile their arms. The only persons allowed on the platform were the station master, his employees appointed to work the signals, and the military chief. There was no guard of honor, no manifestation whatever."

This clearing of the station takes place at every station thru which the train passes, which it does at the maximum regulation speed. At Brussels detrainment took place opposite the Place Rogier, which is a military post since the occupation.

"The space in front of the station, which is always forbidden ground to passengers, was occupied by several motor cars. As soon as the emperor entered his car the small fleet ran swiftly to the Parc Rue Royale, where the Kaiser stayed several hours."

"During the presence of the Kaiser the officials always display the utmost nervousness in fear of anything taking place, and they always breathe a sigh of relief when their master is gone. The fact that even the military are obliged to retire and pile their arms seems to suggest a distrust of his own army."

More Parcel Post Routes to Be Added

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8.—Within three months the postoffice department's motor truck parcel post service will be extended, it has been announced, to routes totaling between 3,000 and 4,000 miles.

One chain will extend from Portland, Me., to New Orleans; one will cover a large stretch of territory in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and West Virginia, and others will serve several California cities.

Routes are already in operation connecting Washington with towns in Pennsylvania and Maryland. It is the belief of the postoffice department that the new routes and still others to be established later will aid materially in the distribution of parcel post matters and lower the cost of food products.

Grazing Rates to Remain the Same

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8.—In announcing that grazing fees for the use of national forest lands will not be further increased "for the present," Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture has informed the stockmen that he cannot say whether this will hold good to the end of the war. Future economic developments will decide.

Early last year the department announced a new scale of charges for the use of forest lands, under which a progressive increase was to be made. Part of this program has gone into effect. The new order has the effect of suspending further changes, halting the increases at the point they have now reached.

This is done, the secretary says, to afford encouragement to the growers of livestock in overcoming difficulties in the production of beef, mutton, wool and hides. The department holds the belief that the charges are still below the level of the real value of the forage.

Insurance of five and ten year permits which would not be subject to reduction in acreage is held to be inadvisable at this time, and the matter will be held in abeyance. Such permits, the secretary says, would interfere with readjustments which it may be necessary to make in allotments to secure maximum use.

MEDFORD, Jan. 8.—A movement has been launched here by Rogue River Valley orchardists and directors of the Farmers and Fruit Growers League, to consider a campaign of publicity regarding the consumption of the pear as an important article of food, and a delicacy for the table.
